A GROWING NEWSPAPER A GROWING COMMUNITY

Vol. 65, No. 3 CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA 10c Thurs., January 17, 1957

Districts To Vote On Bonds

Voters in the Campbell Elementary and High School Districts will get a chance to block future overcrowding in Campbell schools next February 5 at the special $16.5 million state aid and bond election to be held jointly by the two districts.

Both school districts will be bonding themselves to capacity in the election, thus making them eligible for state aid.

The Campbell Union (Elementary) School District is asking voters to okay $5 million in state aid and $2 million in bonds for future school buildup.

The Campbell Union High School District is asking for approval on $7 million in state aid and $2.5 million in bonds.

The election will be held jointly between the two districts. That is, voters will use the same ballot and polling place.

Enrollment in the high school district is now approximately 3000. It is expected by 1962 that it will have reached more than 7000. Campbell's two existing high schools cannot possibly handle the tremendous influx.

To accommodate the great rise in high school population, the high school district plans three new high schools, to be built by 1962. Two of the sites are purchased.

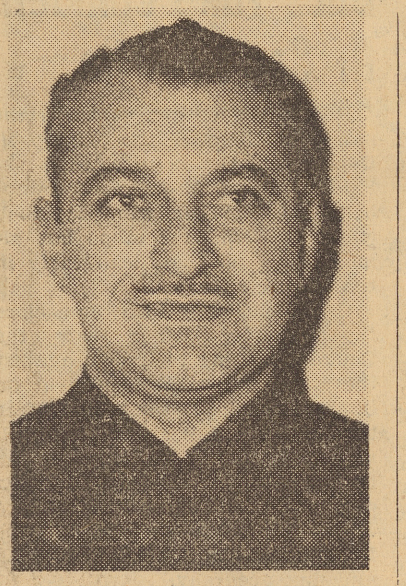
In regard to the elementary school district, it has long range plans for eight new grammar schools. Sherman Oaks school is still under construction. Work on Parkway school probably will get underway by the end of this month. Blackford school has tentative approval from the State. Its construction depends on the election.

Plans are set and the site is purchased for the Hazelwood school, and construction is slated to begin within the next three years on the Lynnhaven school.

The district plans to buy three more sites by 1962. Also planned are 10 more portable classrooms, the addition of some 43 classrooms to existing schools, and site developments.

C. E. Bradley, district business manager, has estimated that the elementary district will contain more than 12,000 children by 1962. The district's enrollment now is about 6200.

Bradley has said that the state aid and bond issue would make little or no difference in the present tax rate.



RICHARD SALICE
. . . Joins Commission

Richard Salice Becomes Planner

Richard J. Salice, owner of the Aero Pharmacy on Winchester Road and practically a lifetime resident of the Campbell area, was sworn in as a member of the Planning Commission on Monday night. Salice takes the place of Hollis Logue, Jr., whose term on the Commission expired December 31.

Born in San Francisco the new Commissioner was brought to Campbell by his parents (on Pollard Road in the San Tomas area) when two years old. He attended Campbell Grammar School and was graduated from Los Gatos High School. (The lines between the two high school districts came close to the Salice home and besides, Dick confesses, Los Gatos fielded a football team at the time and Campbell didn't. Salice played on the Los Gatos High varsity grid team.

He was graduated from the University of California School of Pharmacy in 1939 and practiced pharmacy in San Francisco until World War II interrupted his vocation. He spent two years in the Army and after release from this service he established the Aero Pharmacy here in 1947.

With his wife, Frances, and two boys, Roger, a student at Bellarmine and Richard who attends St. Lucy's, he resides at 860 Rincon Ave.

Salice has never served in any public office but said when he accepted the appointment by the City Council that he would do his best to serve the community to the best of his ability.

The Rev. R. E. Gulley of the Campbell Church of Christ offered the prayer to open Monday's City Council meeting.

Movement Starts to Get Church Property for New Post Office

Alken Co. Gets Contract to Build Parkway Grammar

The Alken Construction Co. of San Jose was awarded the contract to build the Campbell Union (Elementary) School District's 12th school—Parkway—when bids submitted by three companies were opened at the District office last Monday.

Alken's bid, according to C. E. Bradley, business manager for the District, was $353,669 for construction and site development. The company's "base" bid, for the construction alone, was $315,940.

The other two bidders were the Leonard Semas Co. of San Jose, and Pacific Commercial Builders.

The maximum estimate for construction of the school, set by the State Department of Finance, was $316,112. Alken's bid was the only one of the three to fall below that figure, according to Bradley. Had all the bids been above it, new arrangements on bidding would have to be made.

Contracts are expected to be signed within a week or 10 days.

It is figured that the building will take about seven months of full working days, to be completed for the fall 1957 semester. Construction probably will begin on the 25th of this month. Bradley reported that the Alken Co. specializes in school construction. Work they have previously completed for the district includes the building of the Quito School addition, and the multi-purpose room at the San Tomas School.

Parkway Elementary School is to be located on a 17-acre site between Pruneridge Ave. and the Stevens Creek Road. It will be a K-6 school, similar to the others in the district.

It will be the 12th school for the District, which now operates 10 schools.

The 11th school is the $319,000 Sherman Oaks School, located on Fruitdale Ave., which is still under construction.

CITY GETS DOUGH

The City received $3,179.09 in motor vehicle in lieu license tax money and $33,537.50 in property tax money as of December 19, 1956, according to City Clerk Dorothey Trevethan.

New life may be injected into the fight to stop the new Campbell post office from going on narrow, parking-less Central Ave. when tomorrow night one of the most desirable lcations in the present business district is expected to become available.

The official board of the Methodist Church, according to J. M. Dahl, prominent local businessman, meet Friday to discuss the acceptance of an option for developing the church's property on Campbell Ave. and First St., for a post office and other commercial buildings. Indications were at press time that the board would accept the price that will be offered.

All-Out Effort

If the board does agree to allow an option to be executed an all-out effort by local business people and other interested parties will be made to prevent the postal department from going ahead with its present plans to have a building constructed on Central Ave., near Grant St.

Although Rep. Charles Gubser, who has looked into the matter from the Washington end told The Press that "the matter had progressed to a point where it would be impossible to stop proceedings", a number of local civic leaders feel that the availability of the old Methtodist Church property might cast a different light on the situation.

The Post Office Department from its San Francisco office,- headed by Verne Scroggins, announced this week thtat it was asking for competitive bids for leased postal quarters at Campbell. The news release specified that an assignable option was held on 15,760 square feet of land on Central Ave., near Grant St., and that a postoffice building containing approximately 6000 square feet was to be constructed on the site under a 10-year lease agreement.

Opposition Arises

Opposition to the Central Ave. site has come from all quarters in town. Both businessmen and residentts alike have expressed dissatisfaction with the location. (Two letters to the editor on the subject appear on the editorial page in this issue).

Lack of parking facilities, the narrowness of the street and the difficulty in developin the surrounding area are some of the reasons cited by those opposing the location on Central Ave.

Gubser Reports

Rep. Gubser was contacted by The Press in an effort to determine just why Central Ave. was chosen in preference to other available sites. He told The Press that he learned from postal officials in Washington that the site was agreed upon by local business men and was selected from a "standpoint of the public". He said he was told by postal officials that there was a public parking lot across the street from the proposed site.

Sam Cava, secreary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, expressed surprise over these statements. He said that local businessmen were not informed how far the Central Ave. site had progressed until the matter was presented to the Plnaning Commission in order to obtain a use permit.

He also pointed out that the so-called "public parking lot" is not public but is owned and maintained by William Lloyd of the Ainsley Corporation for the convenience of their tenants. He said also that the Chamber office has been so flooded by protests from residents since it appeared obvious that the majority of public sentiment was against it.

POST OFFICE HERE?
. . . It could happen

Cava also explained that he had little success in obtaining information on the subject of post office location from F. J. Dempsey, postal inspector in charge of this area, until this week when Dempsey informed him by letter that the Post Office Department was going to advertise for bids. Cava said that two previous letters (one as far back as August) had gone unanswered.

Hyde Opposes

Homer Hyde, former chairman of the City Planning Commission was another who has expressed opposition to the Central Ave. site. Hyde cast the lone negative vote on the use permit application when it was presented to the Commission. Hyde claims that the lack of parking facilities and the narrowness of the street will work a hardship on the city as a whole and Postmaster Grim has also stated that the Central Ave. location is not suitable because of the same reasons.

Up To The Post Office

Whether the Post Office Department, in light of the increasing opposition to the Central Ave. location and especially, if the old Methodist Church property will be made available, will persist in going ahead with its present plans was anybody's guess this week. Having a government agency come to a grinding halt after it has once started its momentum generally takes considerable pressure.

It is understood that once the okay of the Methodists is obtained, a group of local investors and builders are ready to act. The property has 1945 feet on Campbell Ave. and 184 feet on First St. The post office could face on First and allow entrance by a driveway from both streets. The Campbell Ave. frontage could then be developed into other commercial buildings.

Growing Pains of City

Annexation Problems Keep Council in Lengthy Session

Annexations, past, present and future, and the many and varied ramifications that stem from them, on Monday night occupied the major portion of one of the longest drawn-out Campbell City Council meetings in recent months.

By the time the City Dads had waded through the annexation-packed agenda and taken care of the other miscellaneous tidbits, including the paying of the bills, it was almost midnight. Even the paying of the bills, traditionally saved as the last item for the evening, took longer than usual.

More Annexations

On the annexation front the Council gave first reading to the ordinance that brought an area on the south into the city which included the property owned by the Cascade Research Inc., on which a new plant will soon be built.

The Council adopted two resolutions setting the public hearing datet (February 25) on two more annexations in the same general area and also adopted after the second reading, Ordinance No. 119 which established as a light commercial zone another area (Union at Campbell Ave.) recently annexed to the city. In this instance the Council went against the Planning Commission's recommendation. The Planners had held out for a heavier type of commercial zone for the area.

What Improvements?

Asked by Noel Brown, one of the industrialists planning to build in the new industrial park area south of town what was to be expected in the way of improvements as to streets, sidewalks and curbs, Councilman Richard Morton explained that the Council needed to get a recommendation from the Planning Commission before it could act on such matters.

Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, on the other hand felt that the Planning Commission should follow the instructions of the Council in these matters. However, in order to give Brown, and the other firms planning to build in the same area, an idea of what the score would be on the improvement end, it was agreed that the industrialists should meet with the Planners in a "meeting of minds".

It was stressed by Sam Cava, Campbell Chamber of Commerce Manager that speed in deciding was essential, for a number of industries, in addition to Brown, were anxious to get dirt moving.

Mayor John M. Chargin reported that both the Los Gatos Town Council and Planning Commission were also cooperating on the matter of developing this industrial park as it adjoins Los Gatos and that city was also working out details on a similar industrial section that would tie onto it. The councils and commissions of both cities have jointly met to work out the plans, it was announced.

The City Council on Monday also gave first reading to the ordinance that would establish plan lines for both Winchester Road and Campbell Ave. The ordinance follows the recommendation of the city engineer which would take land equally from both sides of the streets when the thorough fares are eventually widened.

The adopttion of the ordinance, which will take place at the next meeting, marks the final step in the months of controversy originating when the Planning Commission first took up the matters some months ago.

And A Stop Sign

The Council also directed City Attorney Joseph Bonacina to draft amendments to the traffic ordinance which would eliminate the 20-minute parking zone in front of the Chamber of Commerce office and make a 20-minute parking zone in front of the post office.

Stop signs for the intersection of Virginia, Rincon, Cypress and Bucknall were also included in the ordinance. These stop signs had been requested by residents of that particular area and a traffic survey verified the need. However, an amendment to the traffic ordinance is necessary before stop signs can be erected.

The City Fathers also gave first reading to the ordinance that changes the zone from residential to commercial for property owned by Burt L. Burda at 60 Mission Way, formerly the Campbell Hatchery. The City Planners had okayed the change after the Burdas had resubmitted their application to include land that would allow access to Rincon.

Salice Sworn In

The Council took time off from annexations and their resulting problems to witness the swearing in by City Clerk Dorothy Trtevethan of Richard Salice, owner of Aero Pharmacy, as a member of the Planning Commission. Salice was appointed by the Council to succeed Hollis Logue whose term expired December 31.

Chairs for Ladies

Campbell's Business and Professional Women's Club will probably be the first civic organization (other than an official city group) to use the new City Hall as a meeting place. Provided, however, that the gals find enough chairs to go around.

The City Council Monday approved the request made by Mrs. Emily McConnell, BPW president, and Mrs. Margaret Leick past president, to use the conference room for a meeting place. But the City Fathers explained that the room was still unfinished and lacked any kind of seating arrangements.

However, Fire Chief Jack Scott gallantly offered the ladies the chairs owned by the Fire Department, if arrangements could be made to cart them over and back from the fire house.

The club officers thought this could be done. The club which meets the second and fourth Thursday has about 35 members and has been meeting in homes of members.

Bucs Take Camden In Cage Battle

Red hot shooting at the right moments helped the Campbell Bucs defeat their city cousins last Friday night 59-48 for Campbell's first league win. Campbell led at tall quarter stops but almost gave up their lead early in the third cantto.

Campbell led 16-14 after a close first quarter which saw the Cougars holding their own against the Buccaneers. Camden held on in the second quarter with 11 free throws but no baskets. Campbell managed to drop through 18 points, all on baskets. Camden came back and closed the gap to 42-40 only to lose their lead as the Bucs began to hit the net with amazing accuracy.

The last quarter was Camden's undoing as the Bucs hit for 17 points to Camden's 8 for the margin of victory.

Roger Almquist hit for 16 as he turned in his best game so far this season, followed closely by John Kriewall with 14 and Ron Rowe with 13. Greg Rocha led the Cougars with 13 markers.

30's Win Also

In the preliminary game, the "thirties" downed the little Cougars in their best game offensively and defensively all season. Regulation time ended with the score all tied up at 36-36 with the three minute overtime knotted at 38-38, which necessitated a sudden death overtime. Tom Perry, who had already dropped in 14 for the Bucs, sank a shot from the corner to win the game for the Bucs, 40-38.

GO TO DINNER

Members of the City Council and City Planning Commission will attend a League of California Cities dinner meeting tonight in San Jose.

LOW DOWN ON SPORTS

By Marvin Moore

Santa Clara Beats USF

The Santa Clara Broncos took the San Francisco Dons, 51-457, stopping the 31 game winning streak of the Dons in CBA play. Santa Clara took the lead in the beginning of the game, lost it when USF took a two-point lead for just about a minute and then Santa Clara forged ahead. With the exception of one tie score in the first half and one in the second, Santa Clara stayed in front all the way. It was a close and thrilling game. Dick Garibaldi was the star of the game.

Santa Clara looks really hot this season. They took COP, 79-49 later in the week and Chico State 74-57 Saturday night, making their 3rd CBA win and fifth straight win.

Stanford Loses to Cal

The California Bears seem to be going strong in their league — beating Stanford and Oregon this week.

San Jose Beats Pepperdine

The San Jose State Spartans beat Pepperdine 64-42, making the record 3-1 in league play.

All-Pro Game

The Western Team of the All-Pro football players came through with a 19-10 win over the Eastern team. Bert Ruchter, kicked four field goals, one for 52 yards.

Seals Called to Training Camp

Forty-one players were called to the Fullerton Training camp starting March 6. The roster will include many new men for the Seals. One I was especially glad to see will be Pitcher Duane Pillette of Cambrian Park. Our old faithful, Sal Taormina, outfielder, will be on deck, too.

Willow Glen Tops Campbell Cagers

By Richard Ferguson

Willow Glen Rams, with the help of big Jim Walls who scored 33 points, dumped the Campbell Bucs on their own court Tuesday afternoon with the Bucs on the short end of a 57-49 score. The encounter was not a league game and the Bucs league record of one win was not affected.

Jerry Shenefiel sparked the local five as he hit the net for 16 points. Roger Almquist and Gene Andres followed close behind with 10 and 7 respectively.

Willow Glen was never in serious trouble as the Bucs were not hitting as they are accustomed to. Jim Walls (6-5) from was just too much for the Bucs as Wall cleared the boards consistently and tipped in quite a number of offensive baskets. Walls total of 23 led the game scoring for both teams.

In the preliminary game between the Willow Glen B's and the Campbell B's, Willow Glen staved off a Buc drive late in the fourth quarter to defeat the Bucs 30-25. Dave LaBarbera led the losers in scoring with 5 followed by Winters, Cooper, Jimeniz, Lujan and Perry with 4 each. Liebenberg led the winners with 9, followed closely by his teammate, Campbell, with 7.

Campbell Matmen Prove Too Much For Camden Team

Campbell High School's powerful wrestlers defeated Camden High 28-14 in the Camden gym for the Bucs fourth straight victory recently. The Campbell JV's won also 36-16.

Camden started fast taking the first two matches when Damato (105) and Wilson (114) defeated Beeson and Nevis, respectively. It was the first loss of the season for Nevis. But from those two defeats on throughout the match it was the Bucs show as the Campbell High wrestlers took seven straight matches. (One, however, came by way of a head injury suffered by Myers (145) of Camden in his match with Ochoa of Campbell.

Roberts (175) of Camden and Gary Prnjak (193) of Campbell registred the only two pins of the meeting.

The complete summary:

Precipitation amounted to 1.05 inches on the 12th; .82 on the 13th and .03 on the 14th. Total rainfall to date this year is 4.13. Normal to date is 8.57. Last year at this time the area had received 16.21. Quite a difference.

Total rainfall last year was 21,12. inches.

High School Clubs To Aid in March

The Hi-Y Council of Campbell High School will handle the distribution of March of Dimes cartons to local retail stores and do street solicitations for the March at Winchester and Campbell avenues and at Bascom Ave. and the Stevens Creek Road, according to Mrs. Eugen Andres, public relations for the Campbell Union High School District.

The Ace Hi Y's advisor is Charles Robinson. It will team up with the El Diablo Club, whose advisor is Claude Cunningham, to do the street collecting. The Hi Y's also will have charge of special March of Dimes events in the school.

Collecting from area schools for the March will be in charge of the Ex-Calibur club at Campbell High, under the advisorship of Robert Hodson.

Special projects, such as assemblies, athletic events, gas stations, service clubs and lodges, will be handled by Eta Phi, which is advised by Felix Knauth.

Merchants contacts and coin box distribution, will be the job of El Oso, advised by Kermit Skromme.

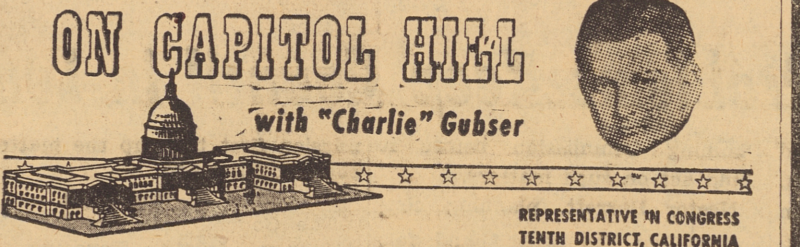
The P.T.A. will handle the "Mothers' March of Dimes".

SENIOR PLAY

Senior play plans are already in the air at Campbell High School, with production dates set for March 21 and 22.

Seven plays have been reserved in the school library for seniors to read. Once the play is chosen, it will be placed in the library for all seniors to read.

In nothing do we approach so nearly to the gods as in doing good to men. —Cicero



With President Eisenhower's Inauguration a subject of interest at the present time, I thought a few anecdotes about past celebrations might be interesting.

John Quincy Adams was the first President to wear long trousers, and not knee breeches, at his inauguration. He was also the first President to be called for at his residence by the retiring President, Monroe.

Our first President was inaugurated April 30, 1789, in New York, the new Nation's capital. Congress had read about coronations but was perplexed about an inauguration. What should George Washington be called? Various titles had been suggested — His High Mightiness, His Elective Majesty, His Highness, His Excellency, or the President of the United States of America and Protector of Their Liberties. Washington took the Presidential oath on the balcony of Federal Hall. As a large flag was raised over the balcony, Chancellor Livingston held up his hand and cried, "Long live George Washington, President of the United States!" This settled the question of title.

President Eisenhower will be sworn in on the steps of the Capitol, instead of inside the building, because Henry Clay had an argument with a Senate Inaugural Committee 140 years ago. The practice of holding inaugural ceremonies indoors was accepted procedure until then.

Clay, Speaker of the House, got his dander up when the Senators asked permission to use the House Chamber for President Monroe's inaugural and to install their own "fine red chairs" for more comfortable viewing. He thought the high-handed way they sought exclusive authority over the event was bad enough, but when they looked down their noses at his "plain democratic chairs," he decided they had gone too far. Clay stood on his constitutional rights and refused. Then an "elevated portico" was erected in front of the Capitol and America's first inaugural stands were built.

The coldness of the day and the long wait before the White House while President Woodrow Wilson took his lunch is still a vivid memory to a West Point Cadet who marched in the 1913 Inaugural Parade.

The cadet's name — Dwight D. Eisenhower.

WILLIE FINNEMORE

Willie Finnemore, 81, a retired farmer, died January 3 in a Los Gatos Rest Home. He resided at 255 Redding Road in Campbell, and came to this area in 1900.

He is survived by his widow, Ray; three daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Hallett, of Campbell; Mrs. Buelah Hiatt, of San Jose; Dora Finnemore of Santa Rosa; two brothers, Harry, a retired San Jose grocer, and the Rev. Charles Finnemore, of Vancouver, B.C.; a sister, Mrs. Annie Bubb, of San Jose, six grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Memorial rites were conducted last Friday in the Campbell Memorial Chapel. Interment followed at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Mrs. Whitney, 92 Early Campbell Settler, Succumbs

Funeral services were conducted last Saturday morning for Mrs. Lucia Whitney, 92, who passed away January 9, apparently in her sleep. She was found in her home that evening by her niece who had come to prepare her dinner.

Mrs. Whitney, who lived alone in her home at 175 East Campbell Ave., took complete care of herself, except for preparing her food. She was apparently in good health until her death and according to her niece, Mrs. Delphine Wilcox, had never been ill a day in her life.

The Rev. Clyde Price officiated at the services from the Chapel of Flowers in San Jose, and following cremation, her ashes were interred at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

A native of Indiana, Mrs. Whitney came to California with her parents when she was two years old and the family settled in San Jose, where they lived until she was 19 years old and then moved to Campbell. Her father, the late Horace Foote, was a practicing attorney in San Jose and first Santa Clara County historian. He owned a big share of the land that is now the city of Campbell, and donated a portion of his land to build Campbell Ave.

Shortly after moving to Campbell, she married George Whitney, an architect who built many of the homes and buildings in Campbell, including the first school. She was active in civic affairs and was one of the first secretaries of the local Methodist Church during the last century, besides being a member of the local Grange, Ada Rebekah Lodge and Los Gatos Chapter of the Eastern Star. She was also an accomplished pianist and she was heard in many concerts in San Jose and as far as San Francisco. Mrs. Whitney also helped organize the first Old Settlers' Day celebration.

She leaves a nephew, Eugene Wilcox, of Campbell; and a niece, Miss Serena Wilcox of Sonoma, besides a grandniece, Mrs. Marcia Donnan.

He fancies himself enlightened, because he sees the deficiencies of othrs; he is ignorant, because he has never reflected on his own.

Hamilton to Close

The closing of Hamilton Ave. between Central Ave. and the Winchester Road for the laying of storm drains all depends on whether it rains in the next few days, according to Al Savio, of Campbell City Engineer Mark Thomas's office.

The two big cranes and the 42-inch concrete pipes they will lower into the ditch are in position on the avenue all set to go. Detours will be via Central and Campbell avenues.

Trustees Name Lovoi Principal of Proposed School

Frank Lovoi was recently appointed by Moreland School District Trustees to take the post of principal at the proposed Elvira Castro Grammar School when it is completed. Lovoi is presently principal of Moreland Grammar School.

Application for $683,000 in state aid to build the school on an already purchased site was filed last December. The application was rejected because of the higher priority of other districts, according to Moreland School District officials. It is hoped that the application will be honored sometime next month or in March.

The school site is located on Campbell Ave., between the San Tomas Aquino Road and the Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road. Strangely enough, the Moreland site is only 160-feet southwest of the Campbell city limit. One hundred thirty feet of the property is within the San Jose city limit, with the remainder in the County. Also, the Moreland school district laps over into the boundaries of the Campbell Union High School District, so the school is within the Campbell district.

It is closer to Campbell than are some of the Campbell (Elementary) School District schools.

The Elvira Castro school, as it was christened by District trustees, is named after Mrs. Elvira Castro Lindgren, who was for 35 years a teacher in the District. She retired last summer.

NEW CLASS BEGINS

Brochure Aims At Attracting Paper Work Industries

Aiming towards encouraging "paper work" industries to locate in Santa Clara County, the San Jose Chamber of Commerce this week launched another phase of its long-range nation-wide industrial promotion campaign with the release of its "Come A Little Closer" brochure.

Used as a direct mail selling piece designed to attract "paper work" industries, the Chamber will seek consideration of this area by administrative and headquarters office firms during coming weeks, according to Roger Williams, industrial committee chairman.

The brochure highlights the many factors that make Santa Clara County a favorable place in which to locate, as seen through the eyes of a "typical secretary." Among the factors listed are office space availability, room for expansion, modern facilities, labor supply, transportation, meeting and conference facilities, and efficient office services.

Advantages of this location are indicated by featuring in the brochure trade marks of many leading office-work firms already located here.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Page chose an afternoon dress of powder blue and wore a white carnation corsage.

Christmas decorations were the setting for the reception which was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Page in San Jose.

When the young couple left for their wedding trip to Monterey, the bride wore a grey suit with white accessories. They are now at home in Seaside.

Grammar School PTA Meet Held

In keeping with this year's objective of bringing about better understanding beween parents, their teenage youngsters, and the school, last week's Campbell Grammar School P.T.A. meeting carried out the program when parents and home room teachers met in small groups to discuss teenage dating, parties and going steady.

This was a follow-up of the November meeting when teenage behavior was discussed, with problems of money management and discipline to follow in subsequent meetings.

A decided increased interest was noted in the number of parents participating in discussions and many parents reported the discussions helped them to gain a better understanding of teenage language, and behavior and helped them to realize that their youngsters were not much different than other youngsers their age

When the groups meet again on February 5 to discuss money management, past presidents and honorary life members of the P.T.A. will be invited to attend and join in the discussion groups.

Henley Speaks at Dover Meet on District Growth

District superintendent William C. Henley spoke last Monday evening to Dover Home and School Club members on the problem facing the Campbell Union School District of having facilities keep pace with tremendous student growth. In twelve years, he pointed out, enrollment has jumped from 1000 to 6000 pupils and a further increase to 12000 is expected by 1961.

In the high school district, present enrollment of 2884 will expand to 7581 by 1964, according to projection estimates. A planned five year program for both districts, according to Henley, includes four to five new elementary schools with a total classroom number of 175, three additional high schools, further construction at Camden High, and construction of cafetorium and multi-use rooms at Campbell High.

To implement thtis program, bonds and state building aid elections are to be held Tuesday, February 5. Henley explained that in order for the district to be eligible to receive state school building aid, it must be bonded to 95 per cent capacity. Since the district's assessed valuation has increased, our bonding program has fallen below 95 per cent, hence proposition one on the ballot will authorize $2,000,000 in bonds to be sold at approximately $400,000 per year for the elementary district and $2,500,000 in bonds for the high school district. Proposition two will authorize the elementary district to accept up to $5,000,000 in state school building aid over a period of years, and the high school district to accept up to $7,000,000 in aid. Henley closed by reminding his listeners that the need is obvious and immediate and that the utmost support should be given to insure the passage of these bonds.

The evening's program was opened with the flag salute led by Camp Fire Girls. Mrs. Ellen Ingram's third grade presented the entertainment by dramatic portrayal of the universe, its planets and constellations. Mrs. Jane Helbush, vice president, presided over the meeting in the absence of Roy Munson, president.

Mrs. Hyde Takes Republican Gavel

Estimate Establishes 1956 Population Gain in County at 39,000 - 8.9% Jump

Santa Clara county gained 39,000 residents last year, according to California Taxpayers' Association estimates. The population of the county jumped from 448600 at the beginning of last year to a total record population of 488,500 as of January 1, 1957. The increase represents an 8.9 per cent gain. Since the April, 1950, federal estimates show that the county has grown by 197,953 persons, or 68.1 per cent.

The basis for the Association's estimates are the number of children in public and parochial elementary schools in the County.

Population of the twelve Central Coast counties area for January 1, 1957, is at an all-time high of 3,525,170, compared with 3,401,500 for January 1, 1956, and 2,892,724 at the 1950 census. Alameda county has the largest population of the 12—870,000.

During the past year, the 12-county area has shown a net growth of 123,670 persons—an increase of 3.6 per cent.

Santa Clara couonty led the 12-Central Coast counties for population growth last year, the Associatioon estimates show. The other 12 counties and their 1956 to '57 percentage increases are as follows: Contra Cosea, 5.6 per cent; Monterey, 7.4 per cent; Napa, 5.6 per cent; San Mateo, 3.5 per cent; Alameda, 2.3 per cent. Marin, 4.5 per cent; San Benito, 0.7 per cent; San Francisco, 0.8 per cent; Santa Cruz, 3.9 per cent; and Sonoma, 2.5. The only coun- which lost 0.1 per cent of its which lose 0.1 per cent of its people.

State-wide, California's population hit another all-time high of 13,976,000 for January 1, 1957—an increase of 612,000 people (or 4.6 per cent) during 1956 and an increase of 3,389,777 people or 32 per cent since the 10,586,223 population shown by the April, 1950 census.

S. J. Arnold, general manager of the Taxpayers Association, commented that "if the rate of growth in California since the 1950 census continues, California will have a population of about 15,900,000 in 1960".

A look at the other counties in the state shows that Los Angeles led the other 58 with a total gain of 234,000 people last year, (a gain of 4.3 per cent). This brings the estimated population of the county to 5,622,000 people, out of the 13,976,000 statewide populatioon, and opposed to the 3,525,170 people in the 12 Central Coast Counties.

Smallest county in terms of population in the State is Alpine County with 600. However, Alpine county had the largest percentage increase last year with a 50 per cent increase—149 per cent since the April, 1950, census.

Biggest population loser in the State last year was Lassen county, which lost 12 per cent of its 18,980 people.

Santa Clara county was fourth in total number of people gained last year among the top eight gainers, (those counties which gained more than 18,000 people,.

The top eight and their last year's gain, since the April 1950 census and current population estimate are as follows:

Los Angeles--234,000; 1,470,313; 5,622,000; Orange—90,900; 301,076; 517,300; San Diego—59,900; 296,292; 853,100; (Santa Clara county); Sacramento, 25,400; 134,260; 411,499; San Bernardino—23,800; 155,558; 437,200; Contra Costa — 19,800; 74,916; 373,900; and Alameda — 19,700; 129,685; 870,000.

Association Lists Tax Facts for '56

Year-end round up of some tax facts for Santa Clara county, put together by California Taxpayers' association, includes:

Number of people in the county is estimated at 488,500 for January 1, 1957, compared with 448,600 for January 1, 1956.

Tax base, or assessed value of taxable property in the county for this fiscal year, 1956-57, is $749,190,970, compared with $623,921,820 for 1955-56.

Taxable property per person in the county averages $1,640 for this year, compared with $1,531 for last year.

County-wide tax levy on property is at the rate of 01.761 per $100 of taxable property in the county for this fiscal year, comparer with $1.823 for 1955-56. This is only one of the tax rates levied on property in the county, the association pointed out.

The number of people on the aid to the needy aged rolls in the county was 6,478 for September, 1956, compared with 6,491 for January, 1956.

The number of children and adults on the aid to needy children rolls was 5,054 for September, compared with 5,513 for January.

The number of people receiving general county relief was 1,019 for September, compared with 3,534 for January.

The number of people receiving direct aid as needy blind was 350 for September, compared with 341 for January.

Parking IS a Problem

There are more motor vehicles registered in Calfiornia than in any other state. Even if we didn't have the figures to substantiate this statement, we would rashly make it anyway.

We think we have driven enough on freeways at the peak traffic period and have encircled enough blocks vainly seeking a spot to park, to classify us an expert as to the number of cars in this state.

We are also old enough to remember how the thinking on the subject of roads and highways in relation to businesses has changed in the past twenty years or so.

It used to be that a store owner fought to have the main line of traffic flow by his business. Very little consideration was given to where the customers would park. It was more important to have heavy traffic through the town.

Now that all has been changed.

No man putting up a store today would dare overlook adequate parking facilities for customers. It has become a must, and a very necessary one at that.

Even high school plants that are being built today must provide parking spaces for students. Today it is the rule rather than the exception for a high school student to have a car. In our day, students owning cars were few and far between and for sure there was no parking problem for those fortunate few.

We think it can safely be established that providing adequate parking today is necessary for either a public or business building.

That is why it is surprising to note that very little, if any, consideration was given the parking problem for the new post office building which is planned for Central Ave., near Grant.

A postal official told us that the deparment did not feel that it should provide parking facilities for its customers.

Granted that the department operates in that manner, it does not necessarily follow then that it should also overlook the need for adequate parking facilities for its own employees or vehicles owned by the department.

In our opinion the area that has apparently been selected by postal officials provides inadequate parking facilities for its own vehicles, let alone those of the employees.

This, then, means that Central Ave. will be so jammed that it will be virtually impossible to move upand down the street.

Just a few doors away will be the City Hall (which has adequate parking for employees, incidentally) and a few feet farther away is the Fire Department.

To put it mildly, Central Ave. will be crowded.

We have been told that our protest for the site has come too late. Rep. Charles Gubser, in a letter to The Press, writes that the matter has progressed to a point where it would be impossible to stop proceedings.

Rep. Gubser also said in his letter it was his understanding that post office authorities as well as local businessmen agreed upon the site and that it was selected from the standpoint of the public.

We fail to see where the public standpoint was considered at all in this case. Today's public is on wheels, and, in our opinion, the Central Ave. location provides one of the worst spots in town for anyone on wheels from a bicycle to a truck.

We also think that the Planning Commission should have been informed of the proposed location before it became a cut and dried affair. If nothing else, common courtesy should have dictated that.

We sincerely hope that Gubser is wrong and the matter has NOT progressed to a point where it can't be changed.

Otherwise, we are afeared that the City of Campbell will have a traffic congested corner that would compare with the worst San Jose has to offer.

And we are willing to let San Jose have those honors without a fight.

OUT on the LIMB

George Vierhus

As you might have gathered from our editorials, we are not a bit happy over the selection of the Central Ave. site for the new post office.

Apparently a number of people (there are a couple of letters to the editor on the subject in this issue) agree with us. But from all appearances our protests on the subject will go for naught, because of that age-old much-used and much-abused reason of "too little and too late".

At least that is what we gather from the information we received from Rep. Charlie Gubser. We contacted Gubser to see if we could get the dope straight from the "horse's mouth" or to be exact, the moguls in Washington who run the postal department.

"I regret to inform you," Rep. Gubser wrote this week in a letter to us, "that by the time your protest had been received the matter had progressed to a point where it would be impossible to stop proceedings".

"The new post office will be located on Central Avenue near Grant Street," Charlie continues in his letter. Then comes the clincher in the letter which makes us a wee bit unhappy, to say the least; "It is my understanding that the site was agreed upon by post office authorities in the region as well as local businessmen, and was selected from the standpoint of the public."

We take exception to this because, in our opinion, "the standpoint of the public" wasn't considered to any great extent. At least from the parking point of view anyway.

The street is narrow to begin with and with the traffic that would be on it because of the City Hall, the Fire Department and residents themselves, it will be overtaxed from the word go.

We have a sneaking hunch, however, that you haven't heard the last about the parking problem that will exist there.

You can bet your boots we will keep harping on parking.

The Trade Club of Sunnyvale honored a group from Campbell last Thursday night and we are happy to report that we were among those present for the reception, dinner and entertainment, all of which was enjoyed to the fullest.

And we even came home with a 7-pound ham because of our talent of having the right number at the right time.

It was "retail service nite" and the motto of the Trade Club of "where business and pleasure go hand in hand" was carried out throughout the evening. We will have to admit that the evening, for our part, was strictly a pleasurable one, although we had a bad time for a while when our ham did an unscheduled disappearing act.

Our prize ham disappeared in the crowd of some 500 men faster than it could have possibly done while it was on the hoof. Trying to locateour missing ham in that mob was a hopeless task. Fortunately we found it in the car when we finally worked our way outside. We had considered calling on the Sunnyvale cops to help us, although we had a hunch it was an "'inside job".

We fingered members of the Campbell mob as those responsible for the ham-lift. But all of 'em pleaded innocent until the next day when Bud Morser, building inspector, and one of the guests, broke down and implicated himself and other accessories after the ham.

Our job to find the culprit among those from Campbell was a tough one when you consider that those attending the affair included, besides Morser, such notable local characters with "records" as Judge Martin Walsh, Councilmen Charles Schmidt and Myron Fairchild, Sam Reed, principal of the high school, Sam Cava, C. of C. manager, Milt Nelson, president of the C. of C. and Doug Beatty, Rex Jeffers and Gentry Warren, all directors of the Chamber.

Anyway we got our ham back and a good time was had by all.

We're ready to go again any time. With or without a ham.

—o—

One of our "undercover" agents has reported to us that someone removed the car keys from one of the police cars early Sunday morning while the occupants of the car were inside a cafe having a coffee break.

We are reserving any further comment on this, although we think we could really go to town on the subject.

At least the culprits left the car. That's something.

We had a pleasant visit Saturday morning at the office with the Rev. John Chandler, a young Presbyterian minister who is in this area organizing a new church for his denomination. The new church will serve both Cambrian Park and Campbell and negotiations for a site-purchase are now underway.

The young minister, who was a Navy pilot during World War II will be in soon with more information on the subject. What was aggravating in our chat with him was that we had a mutual friend, who was also in the Presbyterian ministry, but neither one of us could think of the guy's last name.

Naturally just the minute the Rev. Chandler left the missing name came to us. That fellow's name was Dave Jacobsen. We have listed the name here so that if we forget the next time, we can always refer to this column. Pretty handy, eh?

This may alienate some of our Texas friends but one of our pet gripes is this so-called Texas bigness .We get awfully tired of both the jokes and supposedly true stories about the wonders of the Lone Star state.

Apparently these wonders and the vastness of Texas may be just for the birds, pretty soon if citizens of that state don't watch out. it seems, according to the latest information from the Haynes Foundation in Los Angeles, that Texas now is furnishing California with more new citizens than any other State. Illinois used to have that honor, despite the traditional jokes about Iowa.

We are willing to resign ourself to the fact that California will continue to get a flood of people from other states. But, darn it all, when these people get here it seems to us that they ought to shut up about how wonderful the place was that they left.

If they like the other states better, why did they come here? We are not hunting for more people. That is for sure.

R. R. SIGNALS AT CASEY RD.
Editor, The Campbell Press
Sir:

I have often wondered why the R. R. crossing at Winchester and Casey Rds. isn't equipped with a wig-wag signal or flashing red light to warn traffic of an approaching train. Until now I have just wondered. However I would like to "request" that something definitely be done to correct this dangerous situation before loss of life occurs.

It was my experience to just narrowly escape such a fate so you can understand my concern. I live in that vicinity and use this crossing often and yet I have no explanation of why it was so close.

I thank my Guardian Angel that I am still here today to care for and enjoy my family. No valid reason can be given for not doing something to improve this daily danger. Hence my letter to you in hopes this matter can be brought to the attention of people in the right channels or authority to share this dangerous problem.

Thank you Kindly,

POST OFFICE PARKING?
EDITOR, The Campbell Press,
Sir:

I'm writing this letter before I cool down. I'm particularly perturbed with myself for sitting back and waiting for someone else to speak up in regard to the location of the postoffice—that is besides yourself, Mr. Editor.

If the post office is not concerned about parking for the public at the new site and the narrowness of both Central and Grant, then who is?

Isn't there an ordinance or some ruling that off street parking must be provided with each new building erected?

Central Ave. as everyone knows houses three departments, City offices, Police and Fire department. Can you imagine additional traffic on that narrow street and fire truck and police cars wending their way. Ask any of the firemen if swinging their big truck out isn't a tricky task with cars parked on both sides of the street not to mention possible traffic.

What about the residents in that area? When I need to go to the city hall, I carefully park in front of the building on that side of the street or in the rear because I know residents should have their own frontage kept clear whenever possible.

I'm sure there are no selfish motives involved about whose property to use for the postal building and I'm not just saying that because Mr. Kennedy is my neighbor.

All of our public buildings need not be clustered tightly in one area. By spotting them apart, business is more likely to grow in between and around them. A sign would have to be posted on Campbell Ave. directing people to the postoffice on Central and filling stations would be harassed by inquiries for directions.

What about it planners, are you going to exrcise the same care that you have in other instances and provide the public parking and— safety?

HELEN STORY

WHAT ABOUT PARKING?
EDITOR, The Campbell Press
Sir:

Referring to your Editorial in last week's press, regarding the new post office location, I'm glad to see someone has the gumption to stand up and howl a little. If there could possibly be a worse location for a new post office I'd like to know where it could be.

If that deal goes through I'd like to know where (1) Customers are going to park (2) at the rate of growth of our city where are they going to park the necessary equipment to operate the P. O. (3) How about employee parking? (4) What about the residents of the immediate area?

As for better locations: How about along Winchester or better still at the entrance to the town across from the medico center.

I'm sure other citizens in the area can recommend other sites too. How about our planning Commission? Could it be that our planners are in favor of this?

Congratulations again on that Editorial.

Thill Resigns As County Executive

Frank H. Thill, county executive, resigned officially from the past last Tuesday.

The 55-year-old executive will give up the $20,000 a year post February 28. No decision had been reached by the Board of Supervisors (as of yesterday) on picking a new executive.

Thill had been under repeated criticism from the Board for the past two years, primarily from Supervisor Sam P. Della Maggiore, currently chairman of the Board.

The Board accepted Thill's resignation by a 4-1 vote. Supervisor Ed R. Levin voted against it, maintaining that Thill's detractors failed to present a public hearing.

The executive was "persecuted" and subjected to a "public trial in the press", Levin is reported to have said.

Of his own future, Thill is reputed to have said that he intends to get plenty of rest and stay out of the press.

AFTER YOU

Have you ever tried the Alphonse and Gaston routine when you're driving? Instead of trying to "bluff" the other motorist at an intersection and make him let you go first, try letting HIM go first. The California State Automobile Association says you'll find that it not only makes things safer for everybody but it takes some of the tension out of driving a car in traffic.

Full Scale Program

Moreland District Plans Disaster Drills

The Moreland School District as its first step in a civilian defense program will stage a full-scale disaster evacuation of its 1600 pupils from school to home probably in mid February, according to District officials.

It is said that the program will be the first of its kind attempted by any school district in this section of the County.

The plans for the drill were announced January 9 to some 100 members of the district staff, including teachers, custodians and bus drivers. A number of parents were also present.

The purpose of the drill is to determine the length of time necessary to get students from the schools to their homes in the event of a nuclear attack, earthquake or other disaster.

The drill will be held in the late afternoon. School officials hope that the evacuation will be completed within an hour.

The program provides:

(1) The principal of each school and one other appointed person are responsible for the children in that school. The District superintendent has over-all authority.

(2) Teachers are to stay in the rooms with the children.

(3) Seventh and eighth grade pupils will be dismissed to walk home.

(4) All pupils below the sixth grade who walked to school will be allowed to walk home. Those children transported to school by bus will be kept in their rooms until an adult picks them up. It is asked that parents cooperate on picking up the children by having only a few of the parents in a neighborhood come to school and pick up several children. It is suggested that the parents walk to school to pick up the children. This would avoid traffic congestion, it is believed.

(5) Teachers must see that adults sign out for the children they take home.

(6) Any child who is not picked up by an adult after a certain length of time will be tagged by the teacher with name, parent's address and phone number.

(7) A bus will be assigned and stationed at each school for emergency use only. It is felt that to try to transport all pupils home by bus would take so much time as to be impractical.

A person will be delegated to monitor a "conelrad" station on a car radio at each school. The program provides also that emergency crossing guards be set up at busy streets.

David B. Graves, principal of Strawberry Park school, emphasized that much of the success of the evacuation depends on neighborhood organization.

He urged parents to designate one from their number to be responsible for children whose parents might not be home when the evacuation takes place.

The committee which prepared the plan was composed of Eugene Riordian, of the citizen's advisory committee; George D. Robertson, clerk of the Moreland School District Board of Trustees; and Graves, who represented the administration.

Auto Insurance Premiums Take Big Price Jump

Automobile insurance rate costs took a tremendous upswing yesterday when the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association announced new rates, which went into effect yesterday.

Basic limit (five-ten-five) liability rates in this area went up as much at $60 for an unmarried male under 25 years of age, and as much as $12 for a non-business family car with no young male operator. Single males under 25 have been paying about $112 in this area—with the new rates it will cost them $172.

Basic limit material damage rates for a non-business family car with no young male operator will go up from approximately $44 to $56 in this area.

For the family car with no young male drivers the cost rose from $58 to $64. But for unmarried men under 25 the material damage premium jumped from $77 to $106.

The rate revisions are based upon the experience of insured motorists within the state. On the whole, the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters said, the experience has been adverse.

The blame is put on our mass use of the automobile and the high accident incidence. Hospitals costs have risen, and courts and jury awards in liability cases contine to follow an upward trend, the two organizations said.

Material damage rates have risen because the costs of practically everything that affects automobile insurance rates have continued to rise. New car prices are up. Automobile repair costs have risen. The increased use of expensive glass windshields in the newer models has helped to up repair costs.

Liability rates have increased in California for all classifications, notably on cars with young male operators under 25 years of age. The increases here vary throughout the state from $27 to $70, depending upon the territory.

The young single drivers get the high rates because they have produced a much higher accident incidence. For cars without young male operators under 25 the rates increased on a state-wide basis from $1 to $19. For cars owned or operated by married young men under age 25, and family cars with young male operators, the rate increases over the state range from $10 to $28.

Rates on commercial vehicles show little change.

'Get Mailers In' Dimes Chairman Urges Residents

A reminder was issued this week by Al Haensli, Santa Clara County Chairman of the 1957 March of Dimes campaign, to Santa Clara County residents who have now received their contribution envelopes. "Let's get those mailers in", Haensli said, "before they get lost with the January bills."

The little yellow envelopes are an important part of the National Foundation's annual drive for funds. This year, the Santa Clara County Chapter of the foundation is seeking to raise $150,000.00 as its part of the National goal of nearly $47 million dollars.

Last year, the Santa Clara County chapter spent $122,557.76 for patient care, here at home in Santa Clara County. Patient care is by far the largest item of expense in the Polio fight.

However, this year the National Foundation is budgeting ten million dollars to provide Salk Vaccine shots for those who can not afford to pay for them, in a program which will get under way in February.

That ,plus research and new polio rehabilitation centers, five of them throughout the Nation, adds up to a tremendous sum of money, which will help finish the fight against this crippling disease.

CAMDEN HIGH ELECTION

A primary student election held last Thursday at Camden High School narrowed down the student-body Presidential race to Bill Murphy and Mary Jane Thompson.

Final elections for the president and other student council officers probably will be held January 22 or 24.

Lions Convention Opens Today With Golf Tournament

More than 2500 delegates and wives, representing 656 Lions Clubs in California and Nevada are expected to attend the three-day convention held by District 4 Lions International at the St. Claire Hotel in San Jose. The convention will open with a golf tournament today, (January 17), and close with a dinner dance January 19.

Guest speaker at the 38th annual convention will be Malachi L. Harney, consultant to the Federal Bureau of Narcotics in Washington, D. C.

Prominent Lions officials who will be featured speakers are R. Roy Keaton, director - general, and Dr. Clyde Martyn, Lions international director.

Since 1945 Lions International has more than doubled its membership and its number of clubs. At that time there were 4,856 clubs in 15 countries. Membership totalled 218,184. Now, twelve years later, there are 12,415 clubs in 77 countries and geographical regions, with a total membership of 546,447 Lions. There are 17 Lions Clubs in Santa Clara County alone.

Alcazar Theatre Presents New Form Of Entertainment

A sprightly new form of entertainment comes to the stage of the Alcazar Theatre for a one-week engagement on Monday evening, January 21, when Paul Gregory presents "Foolin' Ourselves," the latest in his long list of theatrical innovations which have been notably successful.

With an outstanding cast headed by Gene Nelson, dancing star of many Broadway musicals and motion pictures — most recently Rogers and Hammerstein's Oklahoma — the comedy-musical bears all the smartness and verve which have become the trademark of all Gregory productions, including Don Juan In Hell, John Brown's Body, The Caine Mutiny Court Martial, and Three For Tonight. Co-starring with Nelson are Sue Carson, famous night club star, Joyce Jameson, Paul Jayson, Chris Warfield, Patti Regan and Frank Wolff, with a company of 25 singers, dancers and musicians.

Gene Nelson plays the part of Mr. Magic, the man who makes things happen, in this imaginative and exciting show for which the book, music and lyrics were written by William Barnes and Robert Rodgers.

"Foolin' Ourselves" is a series of sketches where delightful inserts, beautifully and imaginatively designed by Joel Schiller are used as settings.

Motorists Lag in Getting '57 Tabs

About one-half million California motorists appear destined to get their 1957 auto license stickers the hard way, Al Veglia, State registrar of motor vehicles, observed this week.

Veglia explained that the hard way is waiting until the last minute to pay registration renewal fees. The hard part of this is having to stand in long lines to pay the fees before the February 4 deadline.

After the deadline date, Veglia reported, penalties of up to 100 percent are evoked on tardy payments. "This year's registration renewal is running so far behind that of last year," Veglia declared, "that unless vehicle owners act immediately they may face the biggest deadline crush in history."
